The EBT Milky Way 40' Pattern is an average length asymmetrical pattern with a medium to high oil volume. At 40 feet, bowlers should be very familiar with the pattern and should adjust for carry down from the oil in the center of the lane as it is pushed farther and farther. While the Milky Way is essentially a beefed-up house shot, bowlers should be mindful of taking the shot for granted. There is more oil than a typical house shot, it's layout across the lane is slightly wider, and there is an out-of-bounds. Also, the asymmetrical design pushes more oil into the right side of the lane while lessening the oil for the left. This means the adjustments will be different as lefties will have to make bigger moves than they are used to as the shot breaks down. Milky Way can be played from a variety of angles and it should play like "home sweet home," hence the name. Best practice suggests starting with strong equipment and then throw weaker equipment and move outside as the games prolong. As always, read what your equipment and what the lanes are telling you. Remember, you as the bowler are ultimately responsible for choosing the right equipment and playing the lanes as they allow you to play them! This is only a reference guide, not an answer key!
